Estimated annual cost savings: $2,385*

Stanford | Transportation

Due to the long travel times of transit commutes from the East Bay to the Stanford Redwood City campus, we recommend that East Bay commuters carpool or vanpool. However, we have included some transit resources for your reference. If you are interested in learning more about your transit options, please feel free to request a custom commute plan at transportation.stanford.edu/commuteplanning.

Carpool | Vanpool

Sharing the ride is the best sustainable transportation option from East Bay to Redwood City. By using Stanford's ridematching services, you can be matched with Stanford commuters who live and work near you. Scoop, a casual carpooling public network app, offers special pricing for eligible Stanford commuters (transportation.stanford.edu/scoop). Use Scoop's flexible app once a week or every day at the times that work for you. For a Stanford-only option, you can go to our Carpool & Vanpool Listings page to see ride postings or post your own commute (transportation.stanford.edu/pools).
