

February 21, 2019

ON THE MOVE

Stanford Redwood City Transportation

How Will You Commute to SRWC?

Whether you plan to use a sustainable commute or drive alone, we want your commute to Stanford Redwood City (SRWC) to start on a positive note.

In this issue, we are sharing new information and resources to help you get ready for your commute. We also invite you to let us know how you plan to commute by responding to our four-question survey. We are offering two $50 Amazon gift cards in our prize drawings!

As you learn about SWRC transportation programs, please keep in mind that we are committed to making adjustments based on data, utilization, and demand. Once commuters start using these programs and services, we can scale up or adjust based on actual usage and demonstrated needs. To this end, we welcome your comments and feedback before and after your move to help us better serve you.

Did You Know?

When we assessed the commuting population, we found that about 40 percent of SRWC-bound commuters will be commuting from the South Bay, while about 60 percent will commute from San

SRWC Bicycle Program Details Announced

If you are considering biking as your primary commute, or perhaps combining biking and transit, we have new information about the bicycle program at SRWC.

We also are planning to offer bike safety and maintenance classes in late summer.

If you have bike-related questions, please let us know through our comment and feedback form.

Updates for SRWC Commuters

Whether you plan to drive occasionally or as your primary commute, we are providing an initial parking map, which indicates where to enter and exit the parking garage and surface lots. Find more parking information in our Parking FAQ.

We have a new carpool/vanpool map, which provides a visual display of existing SRWC carpools and vanpools. Search for or post SRWC carpools and vanpools through our carpool/vanpool listings page.

Town Hall Meeting Presentation Now Available

We invite you to view a presentation about SRWC transportation, which we presented at a School of Medicine town hall meeting earlier this month. The presentation includes transit and bike maps, information about Commute Club incentives, commute options, parking, and virtual permits. We hope you find it helpful.

Francisco, Alameda, the East Bay, and San Mateo Counties.

The highest concentration of employees is in Palo Alto and Mountain View.

To help us better serve you, please let us know how you plan to commute through our four-question survey.

We are offering a $50 Amazon gift card to two lucky winners in our prize drawings! Respond by March 8 to enter the drawings. Good luck!

Barron Garage Photos

We are pleased to share photos of the Barron Garage thanks to Brian Canada, our parking operations coordinator, who took photos during a recent site visit.

650.736.9923 | commuteclub@stanford.edu | transportation.stanford.edu | 340 Bonair Siding

View in browser | View previous communications | Subscribe | Unsubscribe